NARRATIVE: U.S. Marshals and Los Angeles County Sheriff's deputies arrest suspect for New Jersey double homicide.

A man wanted in connection with a double torture-homicide in New Jersey was arrested in Paramount on Tuesday, March 16, 2010. Acting on information provided by Camden Police, Deputy U.S. Marshals and Operation Safe Streets Bureau sheriff's deputies with the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department, arrested Suspect Kuasheim Powell in a home in the 15000 block of Orange Avenue, Paramount. Powell is being held at the North County Correctional Facility of the Los Angeles County jail.

24 year-old Kuasheim Powell was wanted in connection with the homicides and torture of a young couple in a home in Camden, New Jersey, on February 22, 2010. Powell is the 10th person to be charged in connection with the killings. Four of the suspects are minors.

Any questions regarding this investigation should be directed to the Camden Police Department, New Jersey.
